SPRING BREAK

What's the matter Alana Dreher, do you have soap in your eyes from the foam party in Cancun? Looks like Jenelle Bohm and Crystal Stacy have mastered the technique of keeping it out of their eyes!!

There is nothing like visiting relatives over spring break, especially when they live in England. Here James Conran visits his grandfather.

Aloha, Kai-lyn and Kyle Westcott. Such a beautiful view in sunny Hawaii.

Katie Schwanzenberger, Kathy Harwell, Megan Kolesar, and Alicia Whittenberg prepare for a lovely evening in enchanted Clearwater, Florida.

"It has brought enlightenment to my thoughts of color of skin as just a color and not a barrier."

1997 Senior Mock Elections

Votes Counted!!
Polls Closed!!
The Results Are In!!

They may never make office in our great government, but we think they're the best qualified (or at least we had no one better to vote for).

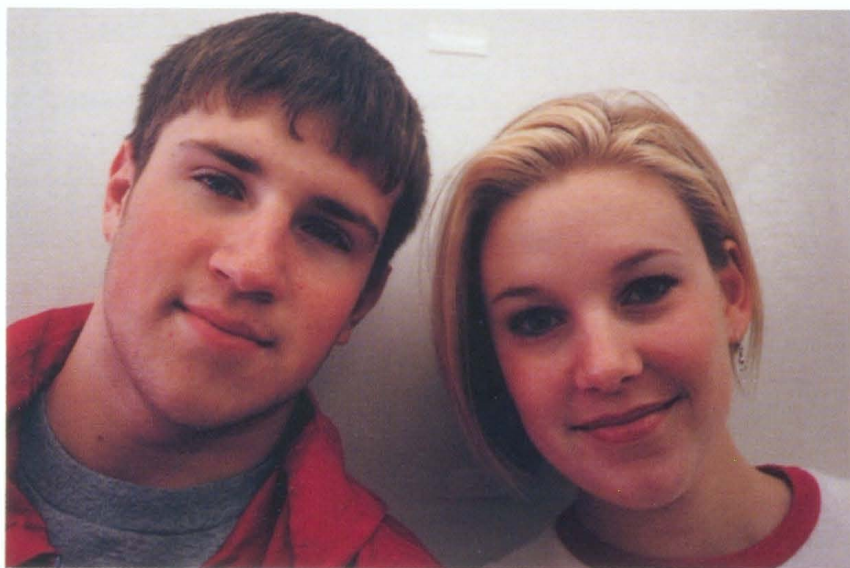

They're the best and the worst of the senior class. They built their reputations and now they are stuck with them. They all left their mark on the school and in our lives (No matter how hard we tried to stop them).

Whenever a friend was in need, they were there. (Best Personality) Cassie Richardson & Micah Steiner

You could never miss them, no matter how hard you tried.
Jason Day & Katie Schwartzenberger (Big Mouth)

To be caught in their gaze is a most pleasant thing.
Chris Fowler & Sally England (Prettiest Eyes).

Even More Mocks of class of 97

If there was a car in the ditch it just might be them!
Alicia Whittenberg & Chris Fowler (Worst Drivers)

Somedays they just made you sick, cause they were so cute.
Seth Nolan & Jamie Phelps (Cutest Couple)

Were we ever lucky to get them both in one day?
Chris Hoelzer & Amanda Maze (Class Skippers)

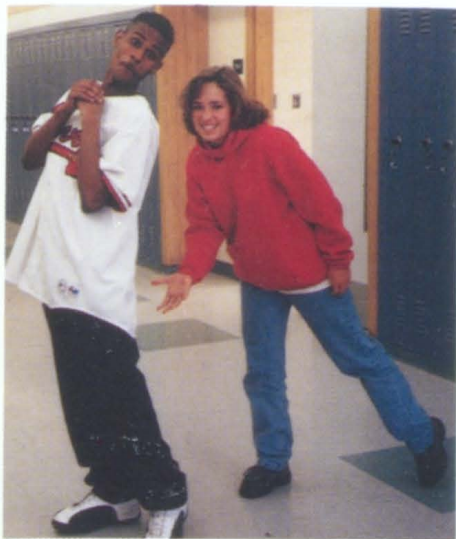

They were always the ones drawing trouble.
Katie Schwartzenberger & Edric Lewis (Worst Tempers)

Look up or look down you're bound to find them.
(Tallest and Shortest) Danielle Soest & Chris Wright, Kai-lyn Westcott & Matt Wyatt

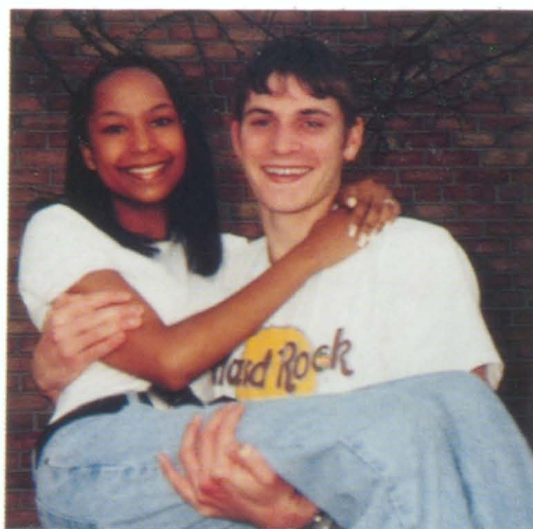

If flirting was an art, they would be the VanGogh and Picasso of flirting.
Clayton Richardson & Yolonda Santure
(Class Flirts)

If there was a sport they were bound to play it.
Jaquan Wright & Laura Blakemore (Most Athletic)

Well, OK maybe they just might make government office (or even president).
Cassie Richardson & Brian Culbreath (Most likely to succeed)

If there was a glamour competition, they would have won it.
Lisa Fails & Micah Steiner (Best Looking)

Let's face it, you just could not conform some of them.
Miah Swain & Stacy Cymes (Most Rebellious)

In tears we saw her sinking,
We watched her fade away,
Our hearts were almost broken,
We wished that she could stay.
But when we saw her sleeping,
So peaceful, free from pain,
We could not ask her back,
To suffer that again.

God knew she was suffering,
That the hills were hard to climb,
So she gently closed her eyelids,
And whispered, "Peace be Thine".
Lord, keep your arms around her,
And your loving care,
Make-up for all her suffering,
And all that was unfair.

It broke our hearts to lose her,
But she did not go alone,
For part of us went with her,
The day God called her home.

All in a Day's Work

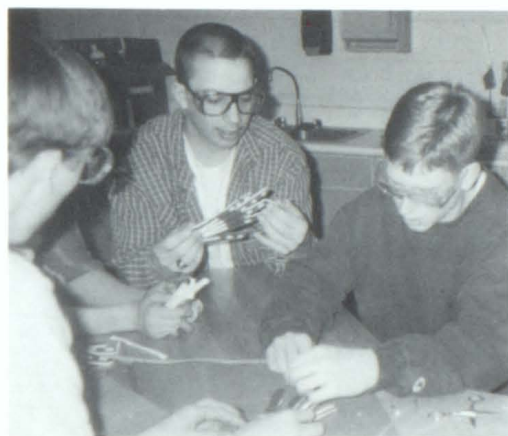

TECHNOLOGY TODAY

In the old days you might find a student whittling away on a block of wood trying to sculpt out what might someday be a toy car. Today you will see students prototyping toy cars, but their block of wood is a computer and their toy car will eventually go up to 50 miles per hour. These are the things that technology classes learn how to do everyday. From Fundamentals of Technology to Problems in Technology, Mr. Nuzzo's classes have been a model for other schools to follow. His interest in seminars and private sector businesses have earned his programs a very prestigious reputation among schools, colleges, and private companies. So call it technology, call it engineering, and call it hard work. But never ever call it woodshop!

Freshman Meghann McParlan and Sophomore Melissa Loomis put the strings on their prosthetic hands to get them to work.

Senior Dennis Parhuta, Juniors Jayson Bower and Brian Publiski, and Sophomore Kevin Godsey use the dremil tools to work on their CO2 rocket cars.

Every year Lincoln students get a chance to meet new people from other countries. This year we were enlightened by the Spanish. Spanish students enjoyed many activities such as attending a Pistons' game, laser tag, a weekend trip to Chicago, they also went to Frankenmuth and jumped in Lake Michigan.

Juniors Jenny Viterna, Nathan Willard, and Andrew Van Tassell take their new Spanish friends to a Pistons basketball game at The Palace.

Spanish students enjoy some American cuisine at the welcoming party thrown by the Lincoln High School Foreign Exchange Club.

Sophomores Eli Alper, Amanda Maier, and Junior Jim Stowe stop in front of the "Tower of Flowers" in Velencia for a quick pic.

Out With The Old In With The New

"WE ALL GO MARCHING"

This year Lincoln High School's band program was one of the most active and involved ones yet. From performing in five home football games to providing entertainment for the school pep assemblies, they have participated in many school activities. They were also in many parades, such as the Lincoln Homecoming parade, the Ypsilanti Fourth of July Parade, the Memorial Day Parade, the Lincoln Athletes Youth Association (L.A.Y.A.) Parade, and they even won second place (out of 13 schools) at the E.M.U. Homecoming Parade competition.

The Lincoln high school band marches with skill on Memorial Day in Ypsilanti.

Freshman Chad Knuckles looks to his left to make sure he is lined up with the other members.

The band playing "Let's Twist Again" at the Homecoming game during half-time.

The Jazz band played at Andy's Jazz Club in Chicago.

"I hope I don't lose my place" Freshman Robin LaFerney concentrates on getting all her notes right while performing at half-time.

ONE BY ONE,

Some of the Lincoln band members stop playing music to show off their new uniforms.

The band plays "It's So Hard to Say Goodbye to Yesterday" at their last concert of the year.

Drum major Rebekah Makarewich salutes as the band plays on.

And the band plays on.

HURRAY, HURRAY."

SINGING OUT LOUD

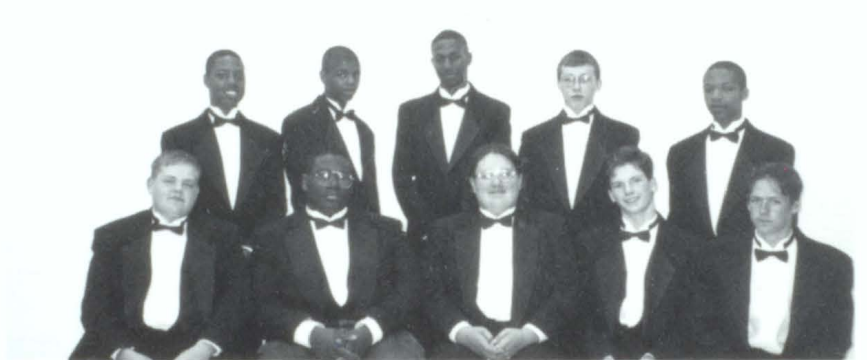

The men, Michael Puryear, Darrell Cannon, and Brandon McCurdy, look so handsome in their tuxes.

This beautiful choir was re-named from Choral Jazz to Split Dimensions this year.

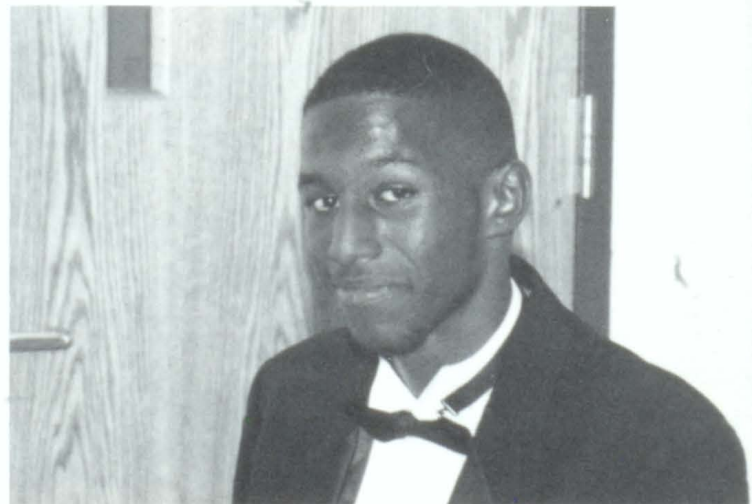

Seniors C. Stacy, C. Evans, S. Thomas, K. Varney, H. Srock, C. Richardson, and B. Andree have their ups and downs in choir class!

Men of Lincoln made a real hit at all the concerts. The men also enjoyed the U of M Male Vocal Day, singing with the U of M Men's Glee Club. Good job guys!

"I feel very blessed to be able to have an opportunity such as this," Levi Taylor. What can you say about this talented young man? His music ability has taken him to many heights. On May 3, 1997 he went to an African-American Act-So Competition at Ypsilanti High School. Levi sang and accompanied himself in his original song, "Your Love." After winning $100 and a medal as the first place finalist, Levi will progress to Pittsburgh, PA to compete at the national level on July 11, 1997.

Tracy Johnston, Suzie Meyer, and Melissa Spencer.

1996-97 Choir students are winners! They performed 5 school concerts, and all of this year's choirs were able to experience MSVMA Festivals. Many soloists and small and large ensembles also participated in the district and state solo and ensemble festivals. Split Dimensions demonstrated outstanding performances in both classical and pop music, winning first and second division ratings at both district and state festivals. Seven choirs joined forces for the SEC choral event to perform "Frostiana" at Lincoln. This year ended with a wonderful educational trip, to Toronto, Canada to see "Phantom of the Opera."

How much sillier can Lincoln's Concert Choir get?

Mrs. Nevin's Women's Chorus did a fantastic job. Their first year was a great experience.

Kim Razor, Julie Boggs and Mindy Bogue stand proud while receiving their Band Awards.

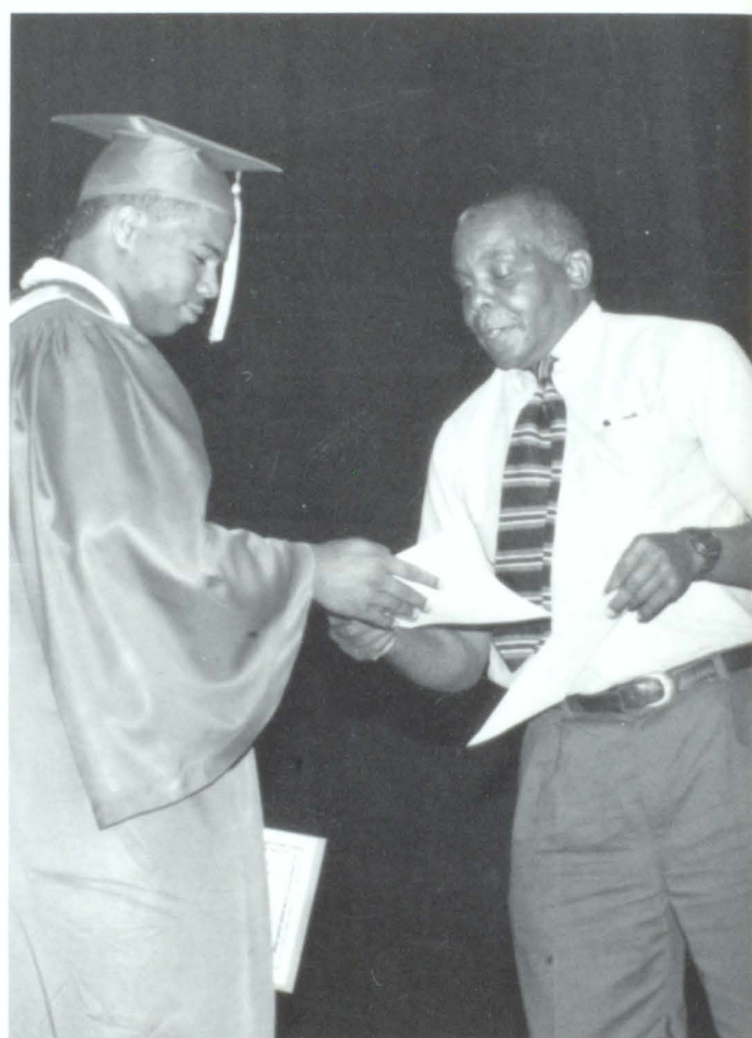

Sara Norton looks grateful after receiving a Dean's Scholarship.

It was a season of ups and downs for Cross Country this year. It was a season of dedication and constant improvement for the team, as both squads worked very hard for a good finish. Cross Country is a very difficult sport; they run hard through the wind, rain, sleet, snow, and sun.

The boys team had an excellent season becoming League Champs, Regional Champs, placing 1st in the S.E.C., and 6th in the State. The girls team grew to 16 members this year. The girls worked hard and their times improved steadily all season. Their records didn't quiet reflect their efforts, but the team is young and still has time to gain experience.

A chip on the green but not a chip on their shoulders. The Lincoln Golf team with two new coaches Scott Schimmoeller and Mike Longyear did rather well. Freshman Brad Robinson feels the team did "rather well for a mostly freshman team." Junior Nathan Willard finished the season by taking home both the M.V.P. and lowest average award earning him an honorable mention from the S.E.C. for keeping it cool under pressure. John Brinker's positive attitude wins him the sportsmanship award. Amanda Bush gets the most improved award. So while keeping an eye on the ball they were also keeping their minds on their goals, they followed through with their best effort to achieve those goals, leaving only improvement for the up coming years.

Junior Nathan Willard starts his day off with a chip on the green for par.

The varsity team went through many changes this season. For the third year there was a change in coaching staff. Coach Schroder has made a noticeable difference; they had one of the best seasons in the last five years. Another change was in the uniforms; the team now sports a new look in royal blue and gray threads. The last and maybe the most interesting change was in the addition to the team. Dear Dana:

By living the life
you believe in you
will have everything
you need to reach your dream. Look into your heart and
you'll find the confidence in yourself that will make the challenge easier to face.

Keep the hope and belief in your faith that God will help you past all obstacles. Keep your focus on God and you will find the joy that is waiting for you.
The struggles you endure are worthwhile. For in the struggles you will find strength and understanding. Remember to live the life you believe in and AL-WAYS listen to your MOM.

Your Family

#1 Daughter

As you begin your new life:
Just hold in your heart these thoughts.

The most important thing in life isn't the money you make or the status you attain.

The most important thing in life is the tap dance lessons and the volleyball games, the poems you write, or the time you spend being someone's friend.

"Being There" is the best lesson I've learned in life. And I thank you for being my daughter and teaching me this precious gift of life.

Love,
#1 Mom XO

CONGRATULATIONS KEN!

We're all so very proud of you!

We wish you the best of luck and more out of life.

Love,
Dad, Mom, Julie, & Janet

Congratulations Brian!

The future belongs to you.

God Bless ...
Continued Success

We all love you,
Dad, Mom, Eric, Juan, Auntie
Cynthia & Uncle Bill

*Heather,
 May your day be blessed with joy,
 and your life be blessed with love.
